I've been exploring how 3D printing and other newer printing techniques can coexist with traditional techniques. I've 3D printed some blocks that I've inked like traditional wood or lino blocks and run through the printing press. In this next term, I plan to incorporate digital printing and 3D printing in conjunction with traditional printmaking techniques to make a digitally printed image with 3D definition from the plate.

Themes:
Check (highlight) the most applicable theme according to the abstract.

| Innovation and Technology | Health and Wellness | Culture and Society | Sustainability and Conservation |

Comments:
Commented [L27]: Co-exist with
Commented [L28]: By the end of this term
Commented [L29]: The abstract is lacking some essential information including: motivations for doing this experiment or why and what the researcher was hoping to achieve, overall first results, as well as reasons to conducting next experiment.